

Open Science Coffee Lectures

Let's publish! All online, freely available! Our self-archiving service

What is Open Access?

“By “open access” to [peer-reviewed research literature], we mean its free availability on the public internet, permitting any users to read, download, copy, distribute, print, search, or link to the full texts of these articles, crawl them for indexing, pass them as data to software, or use them for any other lawful purpose, without financial, legal, or technical barriers other than those inseparable from gaining access to the internet itself.”

(Budapest Open Access Initiative, <https://www.budapestopenaccessinitiative.org/boai-10-recommendations>)

Overview: the three most common Open Access colours

Making your publications more visible: self-archiving (green OA)

Various options:

- subject repositories
- academic networks (e.g. ResearchGate)
- institutional repositories
- own website

Important:

- check your rights (or have them checked) – e.g. via the JISC Open Policy Finder: <https://openpolicyfinder.jisc.ac.uk/>
- avoid signing away your rights to commercial platforms
- suggestion: instead, upload full text onto non-commercial platform, then link to it

Self-archiving service: enriching publication lists with full text

1. Interested in our self-archiving service? Email openaccess@bibliothek.uni-augsburg.de
2. Library checks self-archiving rights
3. Results are sent to author
4. Author signs „Zustimmungserklärung“ (permission to upload full texts)
5. Full text files are made available via OPUS for publications chosen by author
6. If rights are unclear, library contacts publishers for permission

- records in OPUS have URNs
(stable long-term, ideal for linking and referencing)
- full text is archived in German National Library
- publications are indexed by search engines etc.
- if Django CMS publication list plugin is used, a direct download link automatically appears on the website

„Publikationsliste“ (publication list) plugin – automating your website updates
